

HEIDRICK & STRUGGLES

John Strackhouse

John Strackhouse is a Partner with Heidrick & Struggles, and an active member of the Board of Directors and CEO Practice. With over 25 years of experience, John is frequently quoted in Business Week, Newsweek, and Fortune magazines on issues around leadership and executive search.

Since John joined the firm in 1995 he has completed over 250 search assignments. At the CEO, COO and Board of Director level John's clients include Airvana, America Online, Ansys, Celestica, Clearwire, DoubleClick, IPC Communications, Kodiak Networks, News Corporation, Open Text Corporation, SAP, Starent Networks.

He has been privileged to serve the World Economic Forum as a client at the highest level, and architected a strategic relationship on behalf of Heidrick & Struggles. John has extensive experience with financial sponsors in private equity firms such as Cerberus, Goldman Sachs PIA, HM Capital, JP Morgan Partners, SilverLake, and TA Associates.

John also has expertise working with venture funds including Kleiner Perkins, Highland Capital Partners, Matrix Partners, Northbridge, Redpoint and Softbank Capital. John received his BA from Pennsylvania State University. He serves on the Board of Smeal College of Business at Pennsylvania State University.